

ARCHAEOLOGY PROGRAM

Capilano University's Archaeology field school trains students in field techniques while documenting local heritage sites. This location is an early 20th century logging camp that was burned and abandoned in the early 1920's.